Using $this

- Use $this variable at the beginning anonymous functions, for example, inside an each loop:

```
// Don't
$('li').each(function() {
  $(this).on('click', function() {
      $(this).addClass('active');
  });
});

// Do
$('li').each(function() {
  var $this = $(this);
  $this.on('click', function() {
    $this.addClass('active');
  });
});
```

- Some users prefer to use that or self.
- Don't forget to prefix with $ if it's jQuery object.